

HMS PRIVACY POLICY

HIGHWAY MAINTENANCE SPECIALISTS LTD., trading as HMS, is strongly committed to protecting the privacy those users sharing information with the company and to respecting the Data Protection Acts of the UK Government. While this privacy policy applies to the HMS as a trading company in general, we will refer here only to HMS Website to make reading this policy easier.

We want to contribute to providing a safe and secure environment for Website users registering and logging on to the HMS Website to become HMS "Members". You can find the up to date policy online at <http://www.hmslimited.co.uk/privacy>.

The purpose of this HMS privacy policy is to inform you, as a welcome visitor to the HMS Website how the information you provide may be treated by HMS.

Information about All HMS Website Visitors

The information we may gather is built up strictly around that shown in the Online Registration or Enquiry Forms you when you visit hmslimited.co.uk and fill in these forms. Written or verbal communication with HMS through other media may be noted in the same way.

In general, our service may gather certain usage information like the numbers and frequency of visitors to HMS Website and its areas. The HMS Website may make use of computer "cookies" that tells us how and when pages in our site are visited and by how many people. These cookies do not collect personally identifiable information and we do not combine information collected through cookies with other personally identifiable information to tell us who you are or what your e-mail address is.

We do not at present ask you for personal information other than business information, but you may be aware that some other organisations may collect information about individuals' personal interests. It is not HMS policy to record such information.

Disclosure

We do not use or disclose information about your individual visits to HMS Website or information that you may give us, such as your name, address, email address or telephone number, to any outside companies. But we may use this information, strictly by employees of the company, purely for professional business purposes to provide the company and its staff the means to keep potential clients informed by discrete and ethical marketing from HMS.

Personal data will not be disclosed to any third party, unless the company is sold to a new owner in which case we undertake to ensure a transfer of these undertakings to the new owner that information will be treated in the same confidential way.

HMS Privacy Policy Changes & Enquiries

If we decide to change our privacy policy for the HMS Website, we will post those changes here. Should you require any information about this policy or wish to remove the information we have recorded from our database, please contact the company and we will be pleased to assist you.
